Prayer + 1 Question

*“You will NEVER become the the man or woman
God created you to be unless you allow the Holy Spirit to develop in you the habit of daily spending time alone with Him.”*

The above words transformed my prayer life (actually my whole life) in early 1992. I've given my testimony at least a half dozen times during our Minister's Prayer Retreats in the years since then. This year though I sensed I ought to do something different.

In 2013 I published the book Excerpts from a Father's Journal. It's a testimony written to my six children ... the story of what God had done in my life during the 1982-2006 period. (Much of the material was drawn from my retreat journals during those years.)

Chapter 4, titled, Prayer: A New Journey Begins, includes the details of what God did for and in me with regard to prayer during that critical period. I've reprinted it in part in this attachment.

“My children, I can say without any reservation whatsoever that the story I am about to relate did in fact result in the most “radical change” ever in my life. I have not, and never will be the same since that cold night in early January of 1992. So pay close attention now.”
